A CNCS-OIG investigation found no evidence that two AmeriCorps members assigned to a family planning center in Chicago, IL engaged in prohibited activity when they attended an abortion procedure. Acting on a hotline allegation prohibited activity, CNCS-OIG found that two AmeriCorps members were offered the opportunity to observe an abortion procedure, because one of the members was a future medical student interested in obstetrics and gynecology. The members attended the procedure on June 14, 2017 after they clocked out from their AmeriCorps service and ensured that their attendance was not affiliated with their AmeriCorps enrollment.
