

Office of the Inspector General

SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

April 13, 2026

The Honorable Mr. Russell Vought
Director, Office of Management and Budget
725 17th Street NW
Washington, DC 20503

Dear Mr. Vought:

As required by the Government Charge Card Abuse Prevention Act of 2012 (Act), we assessed the risk of illegal, improper, and erroneous purchases made through the Social Security Administration's (SSA) charge card programs. We determined the risk is low.

BACKGROUND

The Act—as implemented by Appendix B of Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-123, A Risk Management Framework for Government Charge Card Programs—requires that all Executive Branch agencies implement safeguards and internal controls to prevent waste, fraud, and abuse of purchase cards, travel cards, and centrally billed accounts.^{1,2}

For Executive Branch agencies with more than $10 million in annual purchases and/or $10 million in travel spending, the Act tasks Inspectors General to³

- periodically assess agencies' purchase card or convenience check programs and travel card programs to identify and analyze the risks of illegal, improper, or erroneous purchases and payments;
- analyze or audit, as necessary, purchase and travel card transactions designed to identify potentially illegal, improper, or erroneous uses of purchase and travel cards;

³ OMB, A Risk Management Framework for Government Charge Card Programs, Circular A-123, Appendix B, sec. 2.9, pp. 13 and 14 (2019).

- report to the Director of OMB on the implementation of recommendations made to the head of the Executive Branch agency to address findings from any analysis or audit of purchase or travel card transactions; and
- report jointly with the respective agency to the head of OMB on confirmed charge card violations.

Because SSA reported it had approximately $21 million in purchase card spending and approximately $2 million in travel card and centrally billed account spending in Fiscal Year (FY) 2025, the Act requires that we identify and analyze risks of illegal, improper, and erroneous use of purchase and travel cards. For additional information about our scope and methodology, see Enclosure 1.

RISK OF ILLEGAL, IMPROPER, AND ERRONEOUS PURCHASES

In FY 2024, we determined SSA's overall risk of illegal, improper, or erroneous purchases made through charge card programs was low.⁴ Because the Agency had not significantly changed its controls since our last assessment, we determined the risk in FY 2025 remained low. Nothing came to our attention that required that we analyze or audit SSA's purchase and travel card purchases and payments.

Required Safeguards and Internal Controls

As required by the Act⁵ and OMB Circular A-123, Appendix B,⁶ SSA has safeguards and internal controls to prevent waste, fraud, and abuse of purchase cards, travel cards, and centrally billed accounts (see Enclosure 2). The Agency's Purchase and Travel Card Management Plans, which address the requirements, outline policies and procedures the Agency believes are critical to (1) ensuring a system of internal control is followed and (2) minimizing the potential for fraud, misuse, and delinquency.

For example, to address the Act's requirement to pay purchase card accounts within prescribed deadlines to avoid interest penalties, SSA uses an automated process to pay purchase card invoices daily.⁷

⁷ SSA, Purchase Card Management Plan, § 4.2, p. 10 (June 28, 2024).

3 | Russell Vought

OMB Circular A-123, Appendix B requires that SSA update its management plans every 2 years from the date of the last update or more frequently to remain current.⁸ SSA last updated its Travel Card Management Plan in January 2026 and its Purchase Card Management Plan in June 2024. SSA plans to update the Purchase Card Management Plan by June 2026, as required.

Executive Order for Charge Card Programs

The February 2025 Executive Order, Implementing the President's "Department of Government Efficiency" Cost Efficiency Initiative, required all charge card transactions, except for those made for disaster relief or natural disaster response benefits, operations, or other critical services, be treated as frozen for 30 days.⁹ To comply with the Executive Order, SSA employees set single transaction limits to $1 for purchase and travel cards.

Status of Recommendations

As required by the Act, Inspectors General of Executive Branch agencies must report to the Director of OMB on how their respective agency has implemented recommendations.¹⁰ As of FY 2025, there were no open or closed prior-year recommendations pertaining to SSA's charge card programs. In addition, there were no current-year audit recommendations to report to OMB. We reported to OMB the status of audit recommendations on January 27, 2026 (see Enclosure 3).

Charge Card Violations, Misuse, or Delinquency

As required by the Act, the Agency must semi-annually report to OMB confirmed violations of purchase card misuse and all adverse personnel actions, punishment, or other actions taken based on each violation.¹¹

In December 2024, the General Services Administration's (GSA) Director of Center for Charge Card Management notified Federal agency/organization program coordinators that OMB's reporting website was no longer operational and agencies' joint violation reports should be sent to GSA. However, SSA did not submit its Semi-annual Joint Violation reports to OMB or GSA in FY 2025 because SSA had reorganized and changed the purchase card program based on Executive Order 14,222.¹² During our review, in March 2026, SSA submitted its Semi-annual Joint Violation report, which reported zero violations, to GSA.

4 | Russell Vought

For FY 2025, SSA reported no instances of misuse in its charge card programs. While purchase cards had no delinquencies, SSA reported there were two instances of delinquent travel card accounts that were 60 days past due. However, the employees paid those balances. In addition, SSA did not have any open or closed investigations and legal proceedings that involved charge card misuse by SSA employees.

ENCLOSURE 1 – SCOPE AND METHODOLOGY

To accomplish our objective, we:

- Reviewed the Government Charge Card Abuse Prevention Act of 2012 (Act).
- Reviewed Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-123, Appendix B – A Risk Management Framework for Government Charge Card Programs (revised August 2019).
- Reviewed the Social Security Administration’s (SSA) policy, procedures, and charge card management plans for new or significant changes that affected its compliance with the Act and OMB Circular A-123, Appendix B.
- Reviewed our most recent memorandums, assessments, and reports related to charge cards.
- Reviewed purchase and travel card transactions made through SSA’s charge card programs for the period October 1, 2024 through September 30, 2025.
- Reviewed centrally billed account transactions made through SSA’s travel card program for the period October 1, 2024 through September 30, 2025.
- Determined whether our Office of Investigations had ongoing investigations or legal proceedings relevant to purchase and travel card programs.
- Obtained SSA’s delinquent purchase and travel card account information for the period October 1, 2024 through September 30, 2025.
- Determined whether SSA took disciplinary actions against employees for their misuse of purchase or travel cards for the period October 1, 2024 through September 30, 2025.
- For compliance with the Act, identified and reported to OMB the status of prior and current year charge card audit recommendations to determine whether any of those recommendations remained unimplemented.
- For compliance with the Act, verified SSA, in coordination with our Office of Investigations, submitted to OMB semiannual reports on confirmed charge card violations.

We conducted our assessment from December 2025 through March 2026. SSA provided information pertaining to its charge card programs. We did not independently determine the accuracy of the information. Therefore, we provide no assurance the information is accurate. During our review, nothing came to our attention that would indicate the information provided is not reliable.

ENCLOSURE 2 – REQUIREMENTS FOR PURCHASE AND TRAVEL CARDS AND CENTRALLY BILLED ACCOUNTS

The Government Charge Card Abuse Prevention Act of 2012 (Act)—as implemented by Appendix B to Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-123, A Risk Management Framework for Government Charge Card Programs—requires that all Executive Branch agencies implement the following safeguards and internal controls to prevent waste, fraud, and abuse of purchase cards, travel cards, and centrally billed account.^{1,2}

Purchase Cards

- There is a record in each Executive Branch agency of each purchase card the agency issued for official use, annotated with the limitations on single and total transactions that are applicable to the use of each card or check by that purchase cardholder.
- Each purchase cardholder and individual issued a convenience check is assigned an approving official (other than the cardholder) who has the authority to approve or disapprove transactions.
- The purchase cardholder and each official with authority to authorize expenditures charged to the purchase card are responsible for (1) reconciling the charges appearing on each statement of account for that purchase card with receipts and other supporting documentation and (2) forwarding a summary report to the certifying official in a timely manner of information necessary to enable the certifying official to ensure the Government ultimately pays only for valid charges that are consistent with the terms of the applicable Government-wide purchase card contract entered into by the Administrator of General Services.
- Any disputed purchase card charge, and any discrepancy between a receipt and other supporting documentation and the purchase card statement, is resolved in the manner prescribed in the applicable Government-wide purchase card contract entered into by the Administrator of the General Services Administration.
- Payments on purchase card accounts are made within prescribed deadlines to avoid interest penalties.
- Rebates and refunds based on prompt payment, sales volume, or other actions by the agency on purchase card accounts are reviewed for accuracy and properly recorded as a receipt to the agency that pays the monthly bill.

² OMB, A Risk Management Framework for Government Charge Card Programs, Circular A-123, Appendix B, Cover Memorandum (2019), establishes standard minimum requirements and best practices for Government charge card programs that may be supplemented by individual agency policies and procedures.

- Records of each purchase card transaction (including records on associated contracts, reports, accounts, and invoices) are retained in accordance with Government policies on the disposition of records.
- Periodic reviews are performed to determine whether each purchase cardholder needs a purchase card.
- Appropriate training is provided to each purchase cardholder and official with responsibility for overseeing the use of purchase cards issued by the Executive Branch agency.
- The Executive Branch agency has specific policies regarding the number of purchase cards issued by various component organizations and categories of component organizations, the credit limits authorized for various categories of cardholders, and categories of employees eligible to be issued purchase cards, and that those policies are designed to minimize the financial risk to the Government of the issuance of the purchase cards and ensure the integrity of purchase cardholders.
- The Executive Branch agency uses effective systems, techniques, and technologies to prevent or identify illegal, improper, or erroneous purchases.
- The Executive Branch agency invalidates the purchase card of each employee the agency no longer employs, immediately upon termination of the individual's employment or transfers to another unit in the agency, immediately upon the employee's transfer unless the agency determines the units are covered by the same purchase card authority.
- The Executive Branch agency takes steps to recover the cost of any illegal, improper, or erroneous purchase made with a purchase card or convenience check by an employee, including, as necessary, through salary offsets.

Travel Cards

- There is a record in each Executive Branch agency of each holder of a travel charge card issued on the agency's behalf for official use, annotated with the limitations on amounts that are applicable to the use of each such card by that travel charge cardholder.
- Rebates and refunds based on prompt payment, sales volume, or other actions by the agency on travel charge card accounts are monitored for accuracy and properly recorded as a receipt of the agency that employs the cardholder.
- Periodic reviews are performed to determine whether each travel charge cardholder has a need for the travel charge card.
- Appropriate training is provided to each travel charge cardholder and official responsible for overseeing the use of travel charge cards issued by the Executive Branch agency.
- Each Executive Branch agency has specific policies regarding travel charge cards issued for various component organizations and categories of component organizations, the credit limits authorized for various categories of cardholders, and categories of employees eligible to be issued travel charge cards and designs those policies to minimize the financial risk to the Government of the issuance of the travel charge cards and ensure the integrity of travel charge cardholders.

- Each Executive Branch agency has policies to ensure its contractual arrangement with each travel charge card issuing contractor contains a requirement that the creditworthiness of an individual be evaluated before the individual is issued a travel charge card, and that no individual be issued a travel charge card if that individual is found not creditworthy because of the evaluation.
- Each Executive Branch agency uses effective systems, techniques, and technologies to prevent or identify improper purchases.
- Each Executive Branch agency ensures the travel charge card of each employee who ceases to be employed by the agency is invalidated immediately upon termination of the employment of the employee (or, in the case of a member of the uniformed services, upon separation or release from active duty or full-time National Guard duty).
- Each Executive Branch agency shall ensure that, where appropriate, travel card payments are issued directly to the travel card-issuing bank for credit to the employee's travel card account.

Centrally Billed Accounts

- The Executive Branch agency shall ensure officials with the authority to approve official travel verify centrally billed account charges are not reimbursed to an employee.
- The Executive Branch agency shall dispute unallowable and erroneous charges and track the status of the disputed transactions to ensure appropriate resolution.
- The Executive Branch agency shall submit requests to servicing airlines for refunds of fully or partially unused tickets, when entitled to such refunds, and track the status of unused tickets to ensure appropriate resolution.

ENCLOSURE 3 – STATUS OF CORRECTIVE ACTIONS FOR AUDIT RECOMMENDATIONS

The Government Charge Card Abuse Prevention Act of 2012—as implemented by Appendix B to Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular No. A-123, A Risk Management Framework for Government Charge Card Programs—requires that Inspectors General of Executive Branch agencies with more than $10 million in annual purchase and/or travel card spending report on the implementation of recommendations made to the Social Security Administration (SSA) to address findings of any analysis or audit of purchase card or travel card transactions or programs.^{15,16}

Prior-year Purchase and Travel Card Audit Recommendations

In 2015, 2016, and 2018, we issued reports with 11 recommendations to address findings for travel and purchase card transactions and programs.¹⁷ As of the end of Fiscal Year (FY) 2020, SSA had taken corrective actions and closed all recommendations. Therefore, SSA had no open or closed prior-year recommendations for FY 2025. In January 2026, we reported to OMB there were no prior-year recommendations related to findings of purchase and travel card programs (see Figure E3-1: Status of Prior- and Current-year Recommendations).

Current-year Purchase and Travel Card Audit Recommendations

Nothing came to our attention that would affect SSA's management of its charge card programs. We did not identify any new or updated changes that were significantly or materially different than FY 2024. Therefore, we did not perform an audit or comprehensive analysis of the FY 2025 purchase and travel card programs. In January 2026, we reported to OMB there are no current-year recommendations related to findings of purchase and travel card programs (see Figure E3-1: Status of Prior- and Current-year Recommendations).
