Dear Chairman Cardin, Chairwoman Velazquez, Ranking Member Paul, and Ranking Member Luetkemeyer:

As you know, the SBIR and STTR Extension Act of 2022 reauthorized the Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) and the Small Business Technology Transfer (STTR) programs through fiscal year (FY) 2025. The Inspector General of a Federal agency that participates in the SBIR or STTR programs must submit an annual report to Congress describing its investigations involving those programs (15 U.S.C. Section 638b(c)). The U.S. Department of Education (ED) participates in the SBIR program; however, ED does not participate in the STTR program as it does not have an extramural research or research and development budget in excess of $1 billion.

Below you will find data required from the Office of Inspector General (OIG) for the SBIR program covering FY 2022. ED SBIR program staff reported that its total SBIR budget for FY 2022 was approximately $13.1 million.

(1) The number of cases referred to the OIG that relate to fraud, waste, or abuse with respect to the SBIR program.

In FY 2022, the OIG did not receive any allegations of possible fraud, waste, or abuse involving the SBIR program.

(2) Report the actions taken in each case if fraud, waste, or abuse was determined to have occurred.

N/A

(3) If no action was taken, report the justification for action not being taken.

N/A

(4) Provide an accounting of the funds used to address fraud, waste, and abuse in the SBIR program, including a description of personnel and resources funded and funds that were recovered or saved.

For the last several years the OIG has conducted video training sessions and webinars aimed at assisting SBIR grant recipients in identifying and addressing fraud, waste, and abuse involving the SBIR programs. As they are conducted virtually, the training costs are nominal, averaging about $500. The OIG held its FY 2022 session on October 18, 2021 and will hold its FY 2023 session on October 26, 2022.

We will track and follow up on any allegations or complaints we receive involving ED's SBIR program and will be certain to describe our efforts in future reports. If you have any questions or if you need any additional information, please do not hesitate to contact me directly at (202) 245-6900, or have a member of your staff contact our Congressional Liaison, Catherine Grant, at (202) 245-7023.

Sincerely,

Sandra D. Bruce
Inspector General
